Do You Eat Finnan Haddie?

Many people do not know the merits of this delicious food, either because they have never tried it, or because it was not properly cooked.

Try the following recipe:

Baked Finnan Haddie

Wash, scald, trim, but leave the fish whole. Lay in a shallow baking pan and nearly cover with milk. Bake twenty minutes, basting frequently with the milk. If liked richer, use thin cream and cover with a sprinkling of minced onion, sweet green pepper and tomato, and then with cracker crumbs and bake until well browned.

When buying this fish be sure and get the home-cured Scotch Finnan Haddie, as they are far superior in quality and flavor, and are free from all coloring matter. This kind can be had only at the

Prices Seemed Ridiculous

Too strong advertising is like a strong tonic. It's often a bad thing for the system. Our advertised sale of Ladies' Suits and Coats and Misses' Coats just advertised at part of their former selling prices seemed pretty coarse advertising to those that did not see the goods that we advertised. Those that bought or took the pains to look saw garments that were from $10.00 to 18.00 selling at $3.98. Not new, to be sure, but so near in style that they are great bargains. You might find your size in this sale. The following are some of our new kinds as we have priced them.

New Silks

These new popular-priced Silks are well displayed in our window. They are to take the place of the more expensive Silks. The most of them will wash and at these prices cost but little more than ordinary wash goods.

New Canton Dot Silks. These are half silk with plain dots—for only 25c per yard.

Light weight Tussah Silks in new tans and blues at 25c per yard.

New Pandora Silks. These are a little different from former styles and the most firmly woven Silk on the market to-day. These all come in stripes over new blues, over new champagne, over new white and cream grounds, at the popular price of 50c.

New Tuxor Silks in champagne, light blue, new blue, green, slate and Jasper. This is the best value of all of the new Silks, as it is a 50c weight at 30c per yard.

We have special values in yard-wide Colored Messaline at $1.00; also in Black Taffeta, same width, same price—a good trade here.

Muser Brothers' Embroideries

This may not mean anything to you, but after using this line for two years it does to us. These are Embroideries made on better muslins than ordinary kinds. They are embroidered fuller, so that washing won't smooth them down flat. They are all new designs and very pretty.

This line comes in fine Edges with insertions to match; comes in fine Embroidered Lawns in the heavier Cambrics and Nainsooks, also in the wide flouncings with bands and all over to match. These were taken up so close last season that we closed out every inch of our Flouncing stock.

The prevailing styles of Skirts calls louder for Embroidered Flouncings than last season and the good values—as good as you can buy now—will be hard to find.

We have a special assortment of wide Embroidered Flouncings—$1.00 values for 75c, and the double-edged Bands to match, 50c values at 22 1-2c.

We have a very good trade in a job lot of Embroideries on our bargain tables at from 7c to 25c per yard.

New Wash Goods

These are goods that are new and a part of them different from last season.

Voiles are to be very good—just what grades will sell best is hard to tell. The cloth with a hard thread will be the best to make up, as it will hold its stiffness and keep that Voile effect so essential to goods of that kind.

We have a 42-inch Voile at 39c that is as hard and firm as a French Voile; comes in linen color, light blue and cream.

New lot of Striped Madras for ladies' waists and men's shirts. These are the same styles as Imported Scotch Madras and nearly as fine, now at 15c per yard, but 2½c per yard more than Percale.

Our new patterns in Flaxons at 15c and 25c are sure to cut the sales of ordinary Dress Muslins. They are of a smarter style and the patterns are all new—something a little different.

We have a lot of 7c, 8c, 9c and 10c Laces for 4c and six-yard pieces of Torchon Lace to trim the above goods.

Our sale of Muslin Underwear closes Tuesday, February 28th, after that regular prices will have to be asked.

The Daylight Store

Saturday Specials

The Department Food Store

Fore-quarters of Lamb that weigh from 6 to 8 lbs. each, per lb., at 10c.

This is a chance to get a nice piece of meat at a small cost.

Many people would as soon have a forequarter boned and rolled for a roast as a leg.

We expect to have 20 or 30 forequarters boned out ahead for the morning rush, so if you want yours boned order by 'phone EARLY.

Don't forget, early.

Fresh Vegetables

Fresh Rhubarb, Spinach Greens, Dandelions, Lettuce, Celery, Parsley, Parsnips, Squash.

Oranges, Bananas, etc.

Cream Cheese, also some extra nice Sage Cheese for Saturday.

Hot Boiled Lobsters, Clams and some good values in our fish department.

The price is sure to advance for next season, and then you will have the laugh on the fellow who waits. We are not offering $25.00 Overcoats for $4.98 but we are allowing a liberal discount on all heavy weight goods.
